Frequently asked questions???

Question: Do I have to prime aluminum siding before painting with AFM's Exterior Satin?

Answer: Yes. Use at least one coat of AFM Metalcoat Acrylic Metal Primer and then two coats of Exterior Satin. Clean off one small area and perform a test application to make sure you are comfortable with the color and adhesion. Aluminum siding has a tendency to chalk as it ages; that chalk needs to be removed before priming.

Question: Does AFM Metalcoat Acrylic Metal Primer come in colors?

Answer: Metalcoat primer is white in its natural state, but it can be tinted. Three coats can be used as the entire primer/finish, but the first coat always has to be without adding tint. The product will accept the same amount of pigment that any other white paint accepts...so stick to the pastel base colors.
